PURULIA CHHAU

Chhau dance is a genre of Indian tribal martial dance popular in Indian States of Odisha, Jharkhand and West Bengal. Based on the places of its origin and development, it is called Seraikela Chhau, Mayurbhanj Chhau & Purulia Chhau.

Also called paika nrutya. The word "paika" is derived from the Sanskrit word Padatika meaning the infantry, hence the name of the dance is battle (paika) dance (nrutya). Some believe that the word Chhau is derived from Sanskrit Chaya (shadow, image or mask), but according to Sitakant Mahanatra, it is derived from Chhauni (military camp).

The most prominent difference among the three styles of Chhau is the use of masks. Seraikela Chhau uses large masks, Mayurbhanj Chhau uses smaller masks, Purulia Chhau uses large masks. In Seraikela Chhau, the dancers wear masks and use hand gestures. In Mayurbhanj Chhau, the dancers do not wear masks and use hand gestures. In Purulia Chhau, the dancers do not wear masks and use hand gestures.

Chhau dance is mainly performed during regional festivals. The festival of Chhau lasts for 13 days, in which the whole community participates.

Chhau blends within it forms of both dances and music. It is performed in three styles: Seraikela Chhau, Mayurbhanj Chhau and Purulia Chhau. The dances are performed in three styles: Seraikela Chhau, Mayurbhanj Chhau and Purulia Chhau. The dances are performed in three styles: Seraikela Chhau, Mayurbhanj Chhau and Purulia Chhau.

It is performed by male dancers from families of the region. The dance is performed at night in an open space, called an akhara. The music is performed with various instruments: pungi (a long, thin, conical wind instrument), murchi (a small, round, conical wind instrument), shehnai (a long, thin, conical wind instrument), and dhol (a large, cylindrical drum).

Socio- Economic Inclusivity

Sree Narayana College is deeply committed to promoting socio-economic inclusivity both on campus and in the wider community. This commitment is rooted in the profound philosophy of Sree Narayana Guru, a stalwart advocate for social justice in Kerala. His teachings and initiatives have inspired various organizations, including the Sree Narayana Dharma

Paripalana Yogam (SNDP) and the Sree Narayana Trusts, to champion social and economic justice throughout Kerala. Sree Narayana Guru's educational ideals emphasize inclusivity and social equality. He envisioned education as a powerful tool for bridging societal divides, advocating for equal opportunities regardless of caste or socio-economic status. His approach sought to dismantle barriers faced by marginalized communities, providing them with access to quality education that fosters unity and equality

By integrating moral and ethical values into its curriculum, Sree Narayana College aims to nurture responsible citizens who are aware of their social responsibilities. The college's mission aligns with Guru's vision of "Emancipation Through Education," focusing on uplifting the economically disadvantaged through comprehensive educational programs

Commitment to Inclusivity

The college embodies the values espoused by Sree Narayana Guru, particularly in its efforts over the past five years to enhance socio-economic inclusivity. Key initiatives include:

Endowments and Scholarships (Sadhana): These financial aids have been instrumental in supporting students from marginalized backgrounds, ensuring they have access to quality education.

Free Midday Meal Programme (Pathayoram): This successful initiative allows over 300 students to distribute meals to marginalized sections of the Kannur Municipal Corporation, fostering community support and solidarity.

Observance of Important Days

In addition to these initiatives, Sree Narayana College actively observes significant days that promote awareness and social responsibility. Events such as Environment Day, Reading Day, Hiroshima Nagasaki Day, Science Day, and National Unity Day are regularly celebrated by various clubs, including the NSS (National Service Scheme) and NCC (National Cadet Corps). Sree Narayana Guru Jyanthi, Sree Narayana Guru Samathi and Founders day also observed by great spirit. These observances not only educate students but also encourage active participation in societal issues.

The Physics Association of SN College, Kannur, organized a series of workshops on eclipse glass making to help students view the upcoming solar eclipse safely. These workshops were conducted in various schools, aiming to educate young minds on the importance of safe solar observation and the scientific phenomena surrounding eclipses. The workshop series was held in several schools, with participants ranging from middle school to high school students. Faculty and students from the Physics Department guided the participants through the process of making eclipse glasses, explaining the importance of proper eye protection during solar observation. The association also provided educational materials on the mechanics of solar eclipses, including how and why they occur, their different types, and the significance of observing them safely. The workshop provided a hands-on learning experience, where students were taught how to make eclipse glasses using certified solar filters and simple materials. This allowed students to actively engage in the process rather than just observing passively.
